MANY RUSSIANS ARE SLAIN AND CAPTURED LAKE LADOGA SECTOR

MUCH WAR MATERIAL ALSO CAPTURED IN REPULSE SOVIET ATTACK

HELSINKI, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Finnish forces northeast of Lake Ladoga killed more than 500 Russian soldiers and captured much booty in repulsing three new Russian attacks, the Finnish army declared in today's communique.

Two of the Russian attacks were against island positions; the third was against shore positions on the lake. the communique said.

"Our troops captured another enemy stronghold, killing the majority of the defenders," the communique continued. "The enemy dead numbered over 500. Seven tanks, four guns, large quantities of other arms, more than 30 automobiles of various types and other war materials fell into our hands."

The Finns said that Russian attacks also were repulsed at Summa, on the Karelian Isthmus in the extreme southeast, and at Markajarvi, on the north near the Arctic Circle.

They said that nine Russian planes were known to have been shot down and that four more probably downed in the air war.

The attack in the Summa sector occurred yesterday, the communique said.

The Finns said their air force "carried out successful reconnoitering and bombing flights during which enemy troops, air bases, et cetera were bombed."

The communique reported that fire "appeared to have broken out" in a monastery at Valamo after a Russian air raid.

Night Air Raids

A new Russian practice, night air raids on Finland's blacked-out cities, was described defiantly today by Finns as a doomed effort to break their morale.

The air attacks continued today and an official announce-

Over Thousand Fighting Planes Sent to Allies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Busy American Aircraft plants have delivered more than 1,100 warplanes to the British and French fighting forces, an authoritative compilation showed today.

The two governments together have placed orders for approximately 4,000 planes since they first turned to the United States for help 18 months ago.

Current negotiations for upwards of 8,000 additional bombers, pursuit craft and other types, which Secretary Morgenthau is watching to protect this government's interests, testify further to allied reliance on American factories.

These and existing unfilled orders, coupled with the pressure for speed from purchasing missions, promise to step up materially the recent delivery rate of more than 100 craft a month.

More than 300 planes have been loaded on merchant ships or tugged across the Canadian border since the European war started. Most of the other planes were delivered last spring and summer.

In addition to the British and French contracts, about 1,000 American planes have been ordered by other governments.

The compilation covered two years ending Jan. 31, but many details were confidential. Officials would permit disclosure of only round-figure totals.

TEXAS ON THRESHOLD OF NEW INDUSTRIAL ERA IS O'DANIEL DECLARATION IN BROADCAST

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Texas is on the threshold of a new industrial era, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel told his radio audience in his regular Sunday broadcast.

Pointing out the potential industrial possibilities of Texas, the governor declared:

"Not only are people in Texas eager to take part in this industrialization program," he said, "but folks all over the United States are beginning to regard the possibilities in Texas as unexcelled."

Quoting articles on the industrial development of Texas and the South published recently by the Wall Street Journal, he commented:

"This is indeed unusual for the great industrial north to recognize the industrial development of the south to such an elaborate extent, But the fact of the matter is industries are on the march and they are marching toward Texas."

Texas' industrial potentialities exceed those of any other southern state, the governor continued, adding the Lone Star State will ultimately become the greatest manufacturing empire in the world.

Rubber companies, he continued to quote from the Wall Street Journal, have expanded manufacturing facilities in the south by erecting plants for the manufacture of tires, tubes and mechanical goods.

"Here in Texas they can locate in the largest cotton producing state, right on the edge of the Gulf of Mexico, and have an abundance of gas or oil for power. I believe Texas is the best location."

The governor dwelt at length on the industrial development of Houston and other Texas cities, particularly along the coast.

Texas' first bathroom tile manufacturing plant will soon be erected, and a company has purchased 52 acres of land at Waco for a large glass manufacturing concern, O'Daniel said.

REP. HOOK REFUSES CONCEDE ANYTHING VALIDITY LETTERS

CLAIMS THAT EVEN IF THEY WERE FORGERIES NO HOUSE RULES VIOLATED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Rep. Hook (D-Mich) refused today to "concede anything" as to the invalidity of letters purporting to link Chairman Dies (D-Tex) of the house committee on un-American activities to William Dudley Pelley, Silver Shirt leader.

Hook told a house rules subcommittee that even if the documents were forged, their inclusion in the Congressional Record did not violate the house rules.

He was the first witness before the subcommittee, considering a resolution by Rep. Hoffman (D-Mich) to expunge the material from the record.

Hoffman, speaking in behalf of his resolution, told the committee that even assuming the documents were genuine, said Hook's remarks were improper because they reflected on a member—Dies—who was not on the house floor at the time and was confined to his home by illness.

Hoffman said the remarks connected Dies with trickery and with "subverting" the power given him by the house when it authorized the investigation.

He contended too, that remarks published in the Congressional Record frequently were given "undue weight" by the thousands of persons throughout the country who read them "and so countered

FIVE PERSONS DIED IN PLANE CRASH IN LOUISIANA SWAMP

NEWLY - WEDDED COUPLE AND THREE OTHER COLORADO PEOPLE KILLED

HAMMOND, La., Feb. 5.—(AP)—An airplane honeymoon trip ended in death last night for a newly married couple and three other persons flying from Denver to New Orleans for the gay Mardi Gras celebration.

Their bodies, burned and mangled, lay in a funeral home here today.

The five-passenger cabin biplane crashed in wooded, swampy country in a thick fog six miles east of here after the pilot had tried desperately to "talk" his way into the New Orleans airport, 50 miles away by airline.

Don T. Craig, 30, of Denver, was the pilot. The passengers, prominent residents of Colorado, were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zimmerhackl, bride and groom of a day; Mrs. Elizabeth McSweney Powell, owner of the plane and cousin of Zimmerhackl, and Michael Creede Hinderlider, Jr., 28, son of the Colorado state engineer.

Zimmerhackl, 56, Denver attorney an business man, once was a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Colorado.

The plane left Denver yesterday morning. The party had made brief stops at Woodward, Okla., and Fort Worth, Texas, before Craig, shrouded by fog, attempted to set the plane down.

J. B. Waldropp, a Slidell, La., salesman, said he saw the biplane level off toward the ground and "hit treetops which stripped its wings. The motor fell out and the passengers were strewn over the ground."

He and W. F. Wilson, manager of the state experiment station near here, sad the plane burst into flames after striking the trees and plowed on for another 175 yards before crashing.

STRATEGY PLANNED FOR OPPOSING COLE FEDERAL OIL BILL

GOVERNORS OIL PRODUCING STATES CLAIM PROGRAM CREATES UNNEEDED AGENCY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Strategy for opposing the Cole oil bill was formulated today by governors of oil producing states.

Governor Phillips of Oklahoma, spokesman for the group, said the state executives would contend before a house subcommittee hearing this week that the bill, which would set up a commission to coordinate state production in the interests of conservation, would create an unnecessary government agency.

Phillips said the group would offer these general objections:

That it would constitute federal interference with state rights; that the states were in a better position to conserve their oil resources than the federal govrnmnt; that there might arise a tendency to upset the balance in state oil production, and that federal control would upset the states' methods of prorating production among operators.

"There are more oil reserves in sight in the United States right now," Phillips said, "that ever before in the history of the government. State conservation has resulted in the development of o better product at a reduced price."

The "autocratic" federal control, which Phillips said would be established by the Cole bill, would work an eventual hardship, he argued, on the consumer.

Sadler to Defend Texas

Texas Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler said he and the two other members of the commission would defend their state against "and pot shots" the interior department might take at their petroleum conservation program.

"We don't have any testifying to do unless they try to besmirch our good record," said Sadler. "The department itself previously found our production waste was only 1.8 per cent. We have an idea they may try to contend now that the waste is considerably more."

Sadler called the Cole oil bill "a double first cousin to Ickes' third party baby." He said he and Commissioners Ernest O. Thompson and Lon Smith were against the Cole bill "because it would be putting a big foot in our front door."

Eight Texans Killed In Two Accidents Sunday

(By The Associated Press)

Eight Texans were killed yesterday in two accidents, a train-auto crash at Coleman and a three way car smashup near Plainview.

Killed in the Coleman accident were:

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Fine and three of Mrs. Fine's children by a former marriage, Marvene Lane Legg, 16, Sonny Legg, 8, and Janie Legg, 4.

Susie Bell Fine, 3, daughter of the couple, was injured.

The accident occurred when their automobile collided with a Santa Fe passenger train at a street crossing.

In the Plainview accident, Carl Shepard, 23, of Plainview; Lawrence Thomas, 26, Plainview, and Miss Alta Duncan, 20, of near Lockney, were killed.

Injured were Bruce Giddens, 24, of Plainview and Miss Mattie Jo Lewis, 20, of Aiken.

State highway police said their car apparently was in collision with a parked truck and then with an oncoming passenger car.

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Three young persons died and five were hurt in a highway tragedy near City Park last night.

Dead were Carl Shepard, 23, and Lawrence Thomas, 26, both of Plainview and Miss Alta Duncan, 20, of Lockney. Injured were Bruce Giddens of Plainview and Miss Mattie Joe Lewis of Aiken, neither critically.

Shepard's car crashed into a parked gasoline truck and then careened into a machine driven by C. E. Newsom of Abernathy. Newsom, his wife and small son suffered minor injuries.

ELLIS, PARKER, SR., LINDBERGH KIDNAP CASE FIGURE, DIES

LEWISBURG, Pa., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The presidential pardon sought for Ellis Parker, Sr., famed small town detective who went to prison in seuqel to the Lindbergh baby kidnaping case, will be a posthumous one if granted.

Death cheated the 69-year-old former Mt. Holly, N. J., sleuth yesterday of a chance for freedom from the Northeastern federal penitentiary here, where he was serving a six-year sentence on conspiracy charges resulting from his activities in the Lindbergh investigation.

But while his family arranged funeral services, his attorney,, Harry Green, announced he would press for a posthumous pardon "for the purpose of vindicating an old man's name." Green added he would seek similar clemency for Parker's son, Ellis, Jr., who is serving a three-year sentence on the same charge.

Parker, convicted with his son in 1937, of conspiracy to kidnap Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton, N. J., lawyer, and forcing him by torture to confess falsely the Lindbergh kidnaping, died in the penitentiary hospital at 3:30 a. m. of an organic cerebral condition. His son was at his bedside.

Parker sent more than 300 criminals to jail or death and solved many unusual and baffling murders in his 44-year career.

CONFERENCE OF FOUR BALKAN NATIONS ENDED WITH ALLIES GETTING LITTLE BEST OF DEAL

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Balkan entente—Rumania, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey—which carries the key to the backdoor of the European war, last night wound up at Belgrade a three day conference which on the whole must give the Anglo-French brotherhood considerable satisfaction.

True, the secretive representatives of this powerful quartet departed under shelter of a smoke-screen which concealed most of the things we would like to know. Instead of revealing private discussions which (we believe) might have indicated the trend of the war, the conferees were rigidly neutral and most cautious in their public statements.

Still the atmosphere on the whole would seem to me to have been rather favorable to the allies. This takes into account the understanding that unhappy Rumania, for whose oil and other resources the belligerents are bidding and threatening, will continue to maintain an open door policy towards Germany at this juncture.

The substance of the announcement made at the conclusion of the conference is that the members of the entente intend to stick to a policy of armed neutrality which will insure their independence and territorial integrity. They mean to safeguard their neutrality by developing commercial and economic co-operation which will render them less dependent upon either of the belligerents.

Now that type of neutrality

MINESWEEPER SINKS WHILE BEING TOWED INTO ENGLISH PORT

THE SPHINX WAS AMONG VICTIMS OF GERMAN AIR RAIDERS LAST SATURDAY

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The British minesweeper Sphinx, badly damaged by German air raiders Saturday, sank today as she was being towed toward port in heavy weather. Four officers and 45 men were missing and believed lost.

One officer and four men were known dead additionally.

Forty-four men and two officers were saved.

The tow-line broke and the ship capsized as she entered port.

The Sphinx was one of at least 11 vessels attacked by Nazi raiders Saturday in a damaging sweep along Britain's east coast from Scotland to the Humber Estuary.

One other vessel, the 629-ton Norwegian steamer Tempo, was sunk, and several others were damaged badly but were able to make port.

Meanwhile trade union leaders of the engineering industry gathered today at the call of Labor Minister Ernest Brown to help find ways of speeding up munitions and arms production.

One government objective was to increase the number of plants working around the clock. Another question was whether 1,000,000 women in the war industries would receive pay equal to that of men in similar jobs.

Meanwhile, the anger of the British press rose against what newspapers termed "murderous" German attacks on North sea shipping. British authorities acknowl-

RUMANIA, GREECE, TURKEY AND YUGOSLAVIA TO CONTINUE NEUTRAL

By ROBERT B. PARKER, JR.

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Rumania, Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia have extended their entente for seven years, pledging continuance of their present neutral status "so as to preserve this part of Europe from the trials of war."

Ending a three-day conference last night, Balkan entente diplomants set out for their capitals, each determined to work out relations with larger powers and one another on an individual basis.

The conference, called to seek concrete ways of barring war from osutheastern Europe, was believed by most foreign observers to have failed to unite the four nations except for broadly-worded de-

CHICAGO CHOSEN FOR CONVENTION TO NAME CANDIDATE

FARLEY ADDRESSED NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Democrats chose Chicago today for the party convention to nominate a 1940 presidential candidate.

Forty-eight members of the democratic national committee voted to hold the meeting in Chicago—one more than a majority of those voting.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of the Windy City had assured the committee Chicago would meet Philadelphia's offer of $130,000 in cash and facilities and equipment valued at $20,000.

The committee rejected offers from Houston, Tex., which had put up a surprise $200,000 in cash and from San Francisco, which had promised $200,000.

The vote was close throughout, and Philadelphia often was ahead. When the roll call was completed, however, several members who had supported San Francisco changed their vote to Chicago.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Chairman James A. Farley told the Democratic national committee today the party's biggest job was to win over some 10,000,000 independent voters "who will cast their ballots for the best candidates and the best program that is offered."

The committee was gathered for an all-day session at the Willard Hotel, to pick a convention city.

Farley, predicting a "very active pre-convention campaign," noted that there were many who would like to have the Democratic presidenial nomination. He mentioned by name, however, only Vice President Garner.

Garner's name came up in the chairman's expression of thanks for the assistance given him by members of the committee, "including sturdy, stalwart John Nance Garner."

Garner himself had some kind words for Farley when he intro-

SUN'S OUTER ATMOSPHERE TO BE OBJECT OF ANALYSIS WHEN ECLIPSE OCCURS NEXT APRIL 7

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Analysis of the sun's outer atmosphere will be the object of a double-barreled observation during an annual eclipse April 7, University of Texas astronomers announced today.

Dr. Otto Struve, director of McDonald Observatory, operated by the Universities of Texas and Chicago, said an expedition will carry special infra-red photographic equipment into the Chisos mountains of West Texas, 100 miles below the observatory while at the observatory, television instruments will be used.

The annular eclipse, during which the center of the sun is to be covered by the moon, leaving a bright marginal ring visible to observers, will occur across Texas in 160-mile wide, east-west belt for a six minute period early in the afternoon.

The McDonald expedition, 5,000 feet in the Chisos mountains, will observe from the exact center of the eclipse belt. While the Chisos observations are to analyze the composition of the sun's edge, an attempt will be made at the observatory proper, by means of newly-developed television equipment, to extend that analysis into the outermost reaches of the sun's atmosphere.

"It is very important that such observations be secured in order to interpret the nature of the material which makes up the outer parts of the sun's atmosphere," Dr. Struve said.

Knowledge of that outer atmosphere—the corona—is still relatively limited, he pointed out.

Dr. C. T. Elvy, McDonald assistant director, will be accompanied on the Chisos expedition by Drs. Philip C. Keenan and Fred T. Rogers, research associates. The equipment, designed by Dr. Rogers, consists of a small reflecting telescope fitted with

GANDHI FAILS TO ACCEPT OFFERS OF BRITISH OFFICIALS

HINDU LEADERS HINT WILL LEAVE NEW DELHI WITHOUT FURTHER TALK

NEW DELPHI, India, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Mahandas K. Gandhi and India's viceroy, Lord Linlithgow, failed today to reach an agreement on Indian demands for independence.

Wrapped in a shawl over his thin cotton robes, the Hindu leader left the conference today hinting he would leave New Delhi tomorrow without waiting for the results of the viceroy's talks with the Moslew faction.

A communique indicated Britain had only offered an oft-repeated assurance to consider India's demands for independence "when the time came"—this time presumably being after the European war.

Gandhi, the communique said, made it plain that the British proposals did not meet the demands of the congress (nationalists) party.

The essence of Gandhi's argument is that Britain must extend to India the same democracy for which she professes to be fighting on the western front. The British, in reply, have avowed a determination to give India dominion status, similar to Canada's as rapidly as possble in view of defense and commercial problems and the quesions of minorities and prince-ruled states.

CORSICANA, TEX., FEB. 6, 1940

TWO ORATORS.

Senator Borah's great hero, says a Washington columnist, was Daniel Webster. Borah kept a picture of that noble figure hanging on the wall where he could face it from his desk. It dominated the book-filled room. And it might be fancied that there was communication between those two men—the first and the last of the Senate's great orators.

We don't hear much of Daniel Webster any more. Do the children still read about him in school, and do ambitious young speakers find in his eloquence what an older generation felt? There may be one here and there who can rise up on the instant and quote the peroration of that great "Reply to Hayne" on the preservation of the Union, a century ago:

"When my eyes shall turn to behold for the last time the sun in heaven, may I not see him shining on the broken and dishonored fragments of a once glorious Union; on states dissevered, discordant, belligerent; on a rent with civil feuds or drenched, it may be, in fraternal blood. Let their last feeble and lingering glance rather behold the gorgeous ensign of the Republic, now known and honored throughout the earth, still full high advanced, its arms and trophies streaming in all their original luster, with not a stripe erased or polluted, not a single star obscured, bearing for its motto no such miserable interrogatory as 'What is all this worth?' nor those other words of delusion and folly, 'Liberty first and Union afterwards;' but everywhere, spread all over in characters of living light, blazing on all its ample folds, as they float over the sea and the land in every wind under the whole heavens, that other sentiment, dear to every true American heart—'Liberty AND Union, now and forever, one and inseperable!' "

Can that magical utterance make a high school boy's hair stand up, and send electric currents along his spine, as it used to? Or has mechanization, with the radio, killed oratory?

HOT OIL

Rumania, lying at the crossroads of ideologies and armies, is on a hot spot. Having great riches in the form of petroleum, she may be consumed in her own oil. She might be better off if she were poor and situated in some out-of-the-way corner of Europe—although it is hard to think of any corner where the predatory powers do not reach out a menacing hand.

The German government has a contract for Rumanian oil, and says it must have not only the agreed quantity, but more, to keep the mechanized Nazi war machine moving. It is "a matter of life and death," the Berlin bosses explain. If Rumania will not supply the necessary oil voluntarily, Germany will "seek other methods."

It is easy to guess what those methods would be. They would be invasion and seizure. And if Rumania resisted, it would probably be crushed, looted and enslaved, like Poland.

But there are complications. Four-fifths of the oil in the ground is said to belong to other countries—Britain, France and the United States—sold or hocked by the Rumanian government and private owners. We would not fight for our share of the oil. But Britain and France would fight for theirs, for the double purpose of crippling Germany and safeguarding their own investment. So that is an interesting spot to watch.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright 1937 Edgar A. Guest)

THE FOOLISH MOTORIST

He takes for granted children small
Won't streetward dash for hoop or ball,
But on the curb, with watchful eye,
Will stand and wait till he goes by.

He takes for granted day by day
That all he meets along the way
Are hale and hearty, full of pep,
And bright of eye and quick of step.

He takes for granted young and old
Are undisturbed by heat or cold,
Or care or grief or friends unkind
And have no worries on their mind.

He takes for granted, since they're out,
That all are well who walk about;
That all, whoever they may be,
With equal powers can hear and see.

At heart this fellow isn't bad,
Cruel, malevolent or mad.
Elsewhere his actions normal are,
But watch him when he drives a car!

OLD POKER FACE

The famous Japanese-American trade treaty lapses at the will of Uncle Sam, and apparently nothing happens. Uncle, seemingly rather casual and absent-minded, says nothing and does nothing. Only, if you watch him closely, you may catch him peeking at his cards under the table. It is a diplomatic poker game, and he has a good hand. A very good hand.

Meanwhile Japan gets excited, which is a way Japan has. She's been playing in bad luck lately, losing ground and face in China and things going from bad to worse at home. By any rational standard she's near bankruptcy. Only dictatorship countries don't go bankrupt. They just crack down and squeeze their people harder and make any old thing serve for money.

The worst of it is that Japan has to depend on America for war supplies. If we don't buy her silk and sell her steel and munitions, the pesky Chinese, already feeling their rice, may drive her out of China. Whatever happens, Japan will "lose face," and that is a terrible thing in Asia.

The oriental hell of it is that Chinese, too, are good poker players, but the Japs have never learned to play poker. They just fly off the handle and blow up. And Uncle Sam, for once at least in an international crisis, is playing a game that he understands.

TIME FOR CALMNESS

Can't we lay off the practice of calling each other "menaces" and "perils" and "subversive influences," for a while at least? A fellow who disagrees with you, or criticizes public officials or policies, or rails at newspapers or anything else, may be right or wrong, wise or foolish. He is hardly ever a deep-dyed villian and his declared attitude is seldom the determining factor in effecting a change or directing a course.

If some ciriticism is unduly harsh, why criticize the critic with equal violence? Why not answer him as clearly and logically as possible, so that the truth will be seen and the false will be left ineffective and harmless?

If Congress can't find a way to arm Finland against the Reds, there's no reason why private citizens can't do it. Finnish Minister Hjalmar Procope at Washington would probably accept a donation.

A Japanese general has warned the United States that Japan will "take appropriate steps." That would be steps leading straight north from China.

If Stalin wants to get anywhere in his next war, he'd better make peace with the Finns and hire 'em to train his army.

As for the presidency, many are called but two are nominated.

Births in Navarro County Far Exceed Deaths Past Year

Births in Navarro county during 1939 exceeded the deaths approximately a two-to-one ratio, according to the record of filings of birth and death certificates at the office of Lyda Reed, county clerk, from the registrars of the county (justices of the peace in the various precincts) and in the office of J. P. Welch, city secretary. There were 922 births and 496 deaths.

Under the laws in effect, all birth and death certificates outside the city of Corsicana are finally filed in the county clerk's office and at the bureau of vital statistics in Austin. The city registrar does not file the certificates at the clerk's office, but sends copies to Austin.

Almost twice as many birth certificates were filed at the clerk's office as in the city, while there were more death documents filed in the city by 30 despite the fact that the city of Corsicana contains approximately only one-fourth of the population of Navarro county.

This condition, however, is explained by officials because of the hospitals located within the city of Corsicana where many births and deaths of county residents occur. Births and deaths occurring in local hospitals are filed in the city regardless of the official residence of the persons involved.

There were 604 birth records filed in the clerk's office while there were 318 in the city secretary's office. There were 233 death certificates filed at the courthouse and 263 in the city hall.

LABOR FEDERATION LEADERS CRITICS OF GOVERNMENT POLICY

NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL AND SOCIAL ECONOMY POLICIES ASSAILED

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 5—(AP)—Sharp criticism of the national government's industrial and social economy policies of the past seven years was contained today in a statement issued here by a group of American Federation of Labor leaders.

In a report entitled "A Call for United Action',' the group declared "the hour has come for Americans to recognize the dangers that confront them and to join in a united effort to halt the drift toward national insolvency, industrial collapse, and the extension of opportunity for the Americans of tomorrow."

The statement bore the names of William L. Hutcheson and Matthew Woll, first and third vice presidents, respectfully, of the American Federation of Labor, and seven other labor leaders.

Many of them are here attending a mid-winter conference of the Federation's executive council.

Dscribing many of the government's policies as an "experiment," the statement declared "innovation after innovation have followed upon each other so fast and furiously that only a trained few could keep abreast of changes."

"If, after seven years, the situations of labor, industry and agriculture had materially improved, if happiness and progress, hope and confidence had resulted," the statement continued, "we could conclude that the experiment had been worthwhile.

"Instead, we find labor torn into warring camps. We find industry depressed and capital on a strike. We find ten millions of American workers unemployed. We find youth discontented and age discouraged.

Widespread Suffering.

"We find not only widespread material sufferings, but in every walk of life we find fear for the great intangibles of America, fear for the liberties that Americans have cherished or more than a century and a half."

It criticized the national labor relations board and its administration of labor problems and held that "labor strife ws the inevitable result."

"One of the great drags upon industry during the past seven years has been the burden of taxation that has been imposed upon big and little business," said the statement.

Besides the names of Woll and Hutcheson, the report also contained those of John Possehl, president of the International Union of Operating Engineers; John P. Coyne, head of the Building and Construction Trades Union; Robert Byron, president of the Sheet Metal Workers; Charles J. MacGowan, vice president, Boiler Makers Union; Joseph W. O'Neill, representative of the Distillery Workers Union; Roland Adams, representing the Carpenters and Joiners Union, and J. R. Weyler, also of the latter organization.

Postponed Meeting Of Navarro P.T.A. Held on Thursday

The Navarro Parent - Teacher Association met Thursday, February 1, 1940, at 3:30 p. m. in the school auditorium in a postponed meeting from January 18.

The meeting was called to order by the president reading portions of the national and state presidents messages.

In the study of "The Child for a Well-rounded Life," Mrs. Charles Collins led the discussion on "Preparation to Earn, and a Job."

The two major economic matters, training youth to earn, and providing a job, cannot be thoroughly discussed in any article or program, but a few of the fundamental ideas can be approached by those who are interested in them.

Many of our best thinkers say that nowadays there is not the urge to work that there formerly was—that people, both young and old, are more inclined to think that the world owes them a living. This may be due to the fact that the scarcity of jobs has discouraged them, but it may be, too, that they did not grow up with the idea that work is necessary to happiness as well as to the pocketbook. Perhaps they were not taught that some sort of employment to which they could give their best energies would form a vital part of their ultimate contentment. The preparing of children to earn through acquaintance with money—its value, its uses in spending and saving—and through the inspiration to do some piece of work well, should be shared by home and school. The right attitude toward working, earning, spending and saving should be developed, with the ability to do well some kind of job for which there is pay. Angelo Patri says keep them learning to do useful things with thoroughness and skill, and the way will open for them.

During the business session one new member, Mrs. Watkins, was welcomed.

The fifth, sixth and seventh grades won the dollar. Since a few dollars are needed to finish the school year it was voted to sponsor a 42 tournament for adults and children—10c and 5c—so parents and friends show your colors by bringing the whole family to the school auditorium next Thursday evening, Feb. 8, 1940, to help a good cause as well as to have fun too.

Bring some pennies for homemade candy. I am sure if you will come with a smile on your face, you will leave with a song in your heart.

Please don't forget the date. Until then I am sincerely, your parent-teacer worker.—Reporter.

STATE WINS SUIT AGAINST STANDARD IN CHAIN STORE TAX

BIG SPRING, Feb. 3.—(AP)—On the way to an appellate court today is a suit the outcome of which will determine whether the state collects an estimated million dollars from oil companies operating service stations in Texas.

The case, involving the "chain store" tax, was started in district court here. Judge Cecil Collings yesterday held for the state against Standard Oil Co., of Texas.

The state sought to collect $2,288.67 allegedly due under the chain store tax, contending eight Standard company stations were outside the exemption because they sold tires and other accessories. The state claimed also that twelve other stations under distributor agreements actually were controlled by the company, therefore were liable.

The company argued the sale of accessories was necessary for "service"; also that ground control was the actual element in determining control of the stations.

The company gave notice of appeal.

Worst Ice-Jam In Mississippi Of Century Ends

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Mississippi river's worst ice jam this century unloosed its frigid grip on steamer traffic today and freight-laden boats moved for the first time in 16 days.

Vessels traveled cautiously, warily dodging floes whose white caps bobbed in the swift current. A ribbon of jagged ice, deposited as the broken jam moved southward yesterday, lined both shores from St. Louis, Mo., to Friar Point, Miss.

Crushed wharves and punctured boats were left by the ice movement.

The channel was free of gorges south of Memphis, but boat captains still waited at Memphis for ice to move free of the channel at Gayoso Bend near Caruthersville, Mo., Drivers' Landing, Ark., and Sugar Loaf, Ark., when these points open up, steamers can travel as far north as St. Louis.

Former Captain In Army Found Be Society Burglar

HOUSTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A 46-year old former army captain was held in city jail today in connection with several hundred burglaries of fashionable Houston homes during the past four years in which loot valued by police at approximately a quarter million dollars was taken.

The man characterized himself as Houston's "society burglar" who gained considerable notriety for his operations two years ago.

Police recovered approximately $150,000 worth of loot from the mans' garage apartment in Park Place, they announced.

They questioned the man practically all last night and searched his home after he detailed to them his career of crime. Eight car loads of loot, including expensive fur coats, diamonds, silverware, rugs and other valuable household articles were hauled from his Park Place home to the central police station where it was spread out in the office of Detective Chief E. H. Hammond, who had charge of the case.

The man confessed orally to the police after first extracting a promise from them that they would, in no way, involve his wife and eight-year old daughter in the case, and would not embarrass them in any way.

Police found the man's place jammed with the loot. Chief Hammond said $40,000 worth of jewelry was found in the oven of the kitchen stove. Another assortment of jewelry valued at $11,000 was found in a syrup can hidden under a ladder leading to the attic, they said.

Whiskey, rugs, a lawn mower, rifles, a bicycle typewriters, shotguns perfume and other stolen articles were stuffed into the place.

Police quoted the suspect as saying he read the society columns for news of the departure of wealthy Houstonians on visits and of weddings in which expensive presents would be given, then burglarized the homes mentioned in the news stories.

The man startled police by asserting the homes of Mayor Oscar Holcombe and Chief of Police L. C. Brown were on his list of prospects.

Your— Federal Income Tax

No. 5
Personal Exemptions

In addition to the personal exemption of $1,000 for a single person or a married person not living with husband or wife and $2,500 for married persons living together and for heads of families, a taxpayer is entitled to a credit of $400 for each dependent, defined by income-tax law and regulations as a person under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. The term "mentally or physically defective" means not only cripples and those mentally defective but persons in ill heath and the aged.

In order to be entitled to the $400 credit, the taxpayer must furnish the dependent his or her chief support. The credit is based upon actual financial dependency and not mere legal dependency. For example, a father whose children receive half or more of their support from a trust fund or other separate source is not entitled to the credit.

Neither relationship nor residence is a factor in the allowance of the $400 credit for a dependent. The taxpayer and the dependent may be residents of different cities. If husband and wife both contribute to the support of a dependent, the $400 credit may be taken by the one contributing the chief support, and may not be divided between them.

A single person who supports in his home an aged mother is entitled not only to the $400 credit for a dependent but also to the personal exemption of $2,500 as the head of a family. A widower supporting under similar circumstances a dependent child under 18 years of age also is entitled to the personal exemption of $2,500 as the head of a family, plus the $400 credit for a dependent.

Under the Internal Revenue Code both the personal exemption and the credit for dependents are required to be prorated where the status of the taxpayer changed during the year.

NO. 6.
Normal Tax and Surtax Rates

The Internal Revenue Code provides for only one normal tax rate, that is, 4 per cent of the amount of the net income in excess of the allowable credits such as the personal exemption, credit for dependents, etc. The law provides for an additional credit for the purpose of the normal tax of an earned income credit, that is, 10 percent of the amount of the earned net income but not in excess of 10 percent of the amount of the net income. The personal exemption and credit for dependents are also allowable as credits against the net income for the purpose of the surtax, the resulting net income being designated "surtax net income." The surtax is imposed on surtax net incomes in excess of $4,000. The rates increase in accordance with the amount of surtax net income included in varying so-called surtax brackets. On a surtax net income of $4,000 or less there is no surtax. On a surtax net income in excess of $4,000 and not in excess of $6,000, the rate is 4 percent of such excess. The surtax upon a surtax net income of $6-000 is $80 and upon a surtax net income in excess of $6,000 and not in excess of $8,000 the rate is 5 percent of such excess in addition to the $80 and upon a surtax net income in excess of $6,000 and not in excess of $8,000 the rate is 5 percent of such excess in addition to the $80, or a surtax of $180 upon a surtax net income of $8,000. The surtax on a surtax net income of $5,000,000 is $3,591,000, and upon a surtax net income in excess of $5,000,000 75 per cent, the maximum rate, is applicable to such excess, in addition to the $3,591,000. Many taxpayers made the error of applying the maximum rate instead of the rate provided for in the bracket in which their surtax net income is included.

Following is an example of how to compute the tax on a net income of $8,500, all of which represents earned net income, the taxpayer being single and without dependents:

Net income	$8,500
Less personal exemption	1,000
Balance (surtax net income)..	7,500
Earned income credit..........	850
Net income subject to normal tax	6,650
Surtax at 4 per cent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $4,000 but not over $6,000, 4 percent on $2,000..........	80
Surtax at 5 percent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $6,000 but not over $8,000, 5 percent on $1,500	75
Total surtax	155
Normal tax, 4 percent on $6,650	266
Total normal tax and surtax..	321

Taxpayers are advised to read carefully the instructions accompanying Form 1040 relating to the earned-income credit and surtax, as well as all other instructions thereon, before preparing their returns.

No. 7
Duplicate Returns

Every person (except nonresident alien fiduciaries, nonresident foreign partnerships, and non-resident foreign corporations) required to file an income return for the calendar year 1939 or a taxable period ending in 1939, must file with the return a copy thereof on the duplicate form (green paper), which will be provided for that purpose, or a photostatic or phtographic copy of the original return. Such copy must be a complete duplicate of the return except that the affidavits on the duplicate form need not be filled in. The copy must also include any schedules and statements attached to the original return except (1) schedule H-1 (information to be furnished by corporation as to compensation of officers and employees in excess of $75,000 under section 148 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code), (2) in the case of a fiduciary return the copy of the will or trust instrument, (3) in the case of a return made by an agent the power of attorney on Form 935 or Form 936, and (4) in the case of an insurance company the copy of the annual statement made to the State insurance department.

Any person who fails to file such cop yat the time required shall be assessed $5 in the case of an individual or $10 in the case of a fiduciary, partnership, or corporation return, and the collector with whom the return is filed shall prepare such copy.

In accordance with the statute above mentioned, within a reasonable time after the returns are filed, the copies thereof will be made available for inspection in the office of the collector of internal revenue in which the returns are filed, by an official, body, or commission lawfully charged with the administration of any State tax law, if the inspection is for the purpose of such administration or for the purpose of obtaining information to be furnished to local taxing authorities. The law provides that the inspection shall be permitted only upon written request of the governor of such State designating the representative of such official, body, or commission to make the inspection on behalf of such official, body, or commission. The statute does not authorize inspection of the duplicate returns by the public.

Inspection of returns is governed by subdivision (a) of section 55, which provides, in effect, that income returns made under the Internal Revenue Code shall be open to public inspection only upon order of the President and under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury and approved by the President. Under existing law and the regulations approved by the President, income returns are not open to inspection by the general public.

BOY SCOUT WEEK BE OBSERVED IN HONOR 30TH ANNIVERSARY

HIGHLIGHT OF PROGRAM BE ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

The nation's 1,330,000 Cubs, Boy Scouts and their leaders will celebrate the 30th anniversary of the incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America in a week's observance beginning Thursday, February 8.

Boy Scout Week is the most important week in the Boy Scout calendar and nine million present and former Scouts and leaders will join the celebration which this year has as its theme "Scouting—The American Way."

The Scout program with its patrol method and other group action features is a "school for citizenship." Since Scouting provides for democratic group decisions and group action, the celebrations throughout the nation will be greatly varied. Each troop will celebrate the birthday anniversary in accordance with its own plans.

The high point of the week's observance will be a nation-wide broadcast from the White House Thursday evening, February 8, in which President Roosevelt, as honorary president of the movement and himself an active Scout leader will talk to his "fellow Scouts and Scouters" as well as the millions of friends of Scouting.

Sunday, February 11, will be Scout Reverence Day and in thousands of churches of every denomination there will be Scouts attending special services. More than half of the nation's 43,368 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Senior Scout groups are sponsored by the churches and synagogues of America. Scouts of Jewish faith will hold their special services Friday evening, February 9, and Saturday.

Special emphasis will be placed upon the twelfth point of the Scout law which reads, "A Scout Is Reverent. He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties, and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion."

In many communities Scouts, by Patrols and Troops, will take an "Old Scout Census," systematically calling at all residences according to pre-arranged plans, to record the names and addresses of those who were once Scouts or Scout leaders. Many of these "Scout Alumni" will be invited to participate in Scout activities during Boy Scout Week.

Scouts will wear their uniforms and have special roles and demonstrations in public and private school assemblies. Fraternal and civic clubs will have Boy Scouts as their guest speakers who will give first-hand accounts of what Scouting means to them.

Hundreds of Troops and Cub Packs will have special "parents' night" meetings in which the parents will be participants in some of the activities. Other Troops will have their meeting during Boy Scout Week set aside for Troop Reunions with former members returning to renew acquaintances and for an evening of fellowship and fun.

The outdoor activities will also have their part in the celebration where weather conditions permit. There will be camping trips, hikes and outdoor rallies, and there will be inter-Troop winter sports carnivals where snow and ice conditions allow.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

THE "OUNCE OF PREVENTION"

The picture we have today shows a wise young lady who is taking preventive measures for her figure. She told me: "So many people say—'Why, you don't have to exercise; you're thin enough now.' But I have no intentions of losing my figure and getting thick in the middle and looking years older. Of course my work makes it imperative that I keep slender, but I would do it for myself anyway."

Preventive measures for your figure.

And it is true. Don't think that every woman you see who is lovely-looking—with beautiful skin and shining hair, and a slender, perfectly proportioned figure, and with every detail of her grooming beyond criticism, just got that way without any effort on her part. No indeed, the smart woman of today sets aside a certain day on which she has her skin and hair and nails attended to; a certain time each day for the daily personal care she must give herself for exercise, bathing, hair brushing, skin care, and so on; and a certain morning when she checks over her wardrobe, making the necessary repairs, sending shoes to be fixed, gloves to be cleaned, and clothes to be pressed. Such a routine cannot help but result in a more poised, butter looking woman. And it is an insurance against the need for taking drastic measures when the signs of neglect and disinterest in your appearance begin to be too obvious.

The amazing amount of money spent each year by women who suddenly decide that they "must do something about themselves" could well be conserved by "preventive measures" — stopping-the-horse-before-he has run out of the barn tactics. Be clever, take care of yourself daily—don't talk about it—and you will create the enviable impression that you are blessed.

CORSICANA COLLEGE STUDENT IS AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP NTSTC

DENTON, Feb. 5.—(Spl.)—Everett Scogin, senior from Corsicana, has been awerded a $450 research scholarship in chemurgy at the North Texas State Teachers College, Gilbert Wilson, instructor in chemurgy, has announced.

The $450 scholarship awarded Scogin is a part of a $600 grant by the Freeport Sulphur Company to the Teachers College to be used to determine the value of sulphur dioxide as a dehydrating agent in the dehydration of the sweet potato for starch and as a cattle feed. One hundred fifty dollars of the grant is to be used in collecting supplies and for other accompanying expense.

Tests will be run by Scogin over a 12-month period comparing three samples of sweet potatoes; a blank sample using no dehydrating agent, a sample dehydratin by the lime method, and one dehydrated with sulphur dioxide.

In preparation for the research, Wilson and Scogin made a trip to Laurel, Miss., where they conferred with W. R. Richee, manager of the Laurel, Miss., starch plant, and his chemists on laboratory procedure and standards which they must meet in dehydration for sweet potato starch manufacture.

The scholarship has been granted by Freeport Sulphur in the interest of agricultural development and all information obtained by the research will be public information, Wilson said in making the announcement of the grant.

Extension of Trade Program Indicated

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A preliminary canvass by administration leaders was reported today to indicate senate approval of extending the reciprocal trade program.

Although the survey was incomplete, one of the senators who has been making it said there was every reason to believe that not more than a dozen democrats would join the 23 republicans in opposing the legislation.

Administration strategists said there apparently would be stronger sentiment in the senate ratification of each trade pact, but they expressed confidence that they had the votes to defeat an amendment of the nature.

The canvass of senators' views has been proceeding quietly, under the direction of Senators Byrnes (D-SC) and Harrison (D-Miss) while the house ways and means committee has been busy with hearings on the program.

House action is expected soon after these hearings end, and administration followers have been confident of victory in the chamber.

Congress marked time today to permit many of its members to attend the meeting of the Democratic National Committee.

Wheat and Corn Advance

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Wheat and corn price gains of a cent a bushel or more today imparted strength to the entire grain market.

Buying based on unfavorable reports of winter crop conditions in the northern hemisphere, particularly from Europe, bolstered wheat while the corn market derived strength from export business and indications that substantial quantities are being stored for loans. Corn export sales were estimated at 500,000 bushels, the best business in more than a week, while more Pacific coast wheat was sold to the Orient with the help of a government subsidy.

ment said Swedish ambulances were struck but damage was negligible and there were no casualties among the ambulance workers.

The night forays, a phase of intensifyinf Soviet air warfare, have developed during an unrelenting Red Army land offensive which, so far, has found the Mannerheim line impregnable.

In another futile attempt to break through Karelian Isthmus defenses at Summa, 20 miles south of Viipuri, Finns said yesterday, the Russians lost more than 1,000 men. "Heavy" Soviet losses also were reported at Muolaajarvi, on the same front.

Two of Finland's main cities, meanwhile, were hard hit by Russian air raiders. Bomb-ignited fires burned throughout the night in the seaport of Turku and in Viipuri.

For the past few nights, Red army planes have been flying far behind the Finnish lines. Finns, charging the Russians bombed at random on these flights, reported one of the heaviest raids last night on villages and farms near Lake Salmaa.

Missiles fell throughout the dark hours, they said. Commenting that there was nothing in the area except agriculture, they called the raids a deliberate effort to terrorize the population.

LEADERS IN STOCK MARKET TENDED TO DOWNWARD SIDE

ONLY HANDFUL SPECIALTIES MANAGED TO HOLD SLIGHT ADVANTAGES

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Stock leaders inclined to slope moderately downward in today's market.

While a handful of specialties managed to hold modest advances, declines of fractions to a point or so were generously sprinkled over the list at the close.

No great importance, however, was attached to price shifts in view of the slackness of dealings throughout. Transfers were around 450,000 shares, one of the low volumes of the year to date.

Industrial news provided scant stimulation and Wall street remained at the listening post of politics on the chance the meeting of the democratic national committee might give a clue regarding the coming presidential campaign and the "third term" question.

A drop in this week's steel mill operations of 5.6 to 71.7 per cent of capacity, a bottom mark since last September, clouded stocks in this group. The recession, at the same time, was in line with forecasts.

In arrears most of the day were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Eastman Kodak, Dow Chemical, Loft, Cluett Peabody, American Can, Douglas Aircraft, U. S. Rubber and American Telephone. Rails, utilities, coppers, oils and merchandising issues maintained their balance fairly well.

Edging into new high territory for 1939-40 were Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit and Brooklyn & Queens Transit stocks. Supported were Commercial Investment Trust, Anaconda, International Paper Preferred, Texas Corp., Consolidated Edison, Caterpillar Tractor and Tidewater Oil.

PARIS, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A war ministry communique tonight announced the fifth meeting of the allied supreme war council was held in Paris today with Prime Minister Chamberlain and Premier Daladier heading the conferees.

Among the questions discussed, besides general aspects of the conflict, was that of furnishing food for the armies.

Plumbers Spent Three Days Idly, Water Turned Off

SNOW HILL, Md., Feb. 5.—(AP)—For three days two forces of plumbers labored to thaw out water pipes leading into the homes of Mrs. Linda Price, Norman Hall and Dewey Pusey.

Lead-in pipes were unearthed and heated, trenches dug, and blow torches flamed hours on end. But—no water.

Then Herman Truitt, a workman, walked over to the city's main water line and turned a valve. Water spouted at disconnected pipes all around the three yards.

DEMOCRATS

duced him, as "one of the most efficient, kindest and most agreeable fellows to work with I know."

The vice president also described Farley as "one of the most distinguished chairmen of any national committee of any party for the last half century"

As Farley spoke, there were growing indications that Philadelphia might obtain the 1940 convention. The Democrats met there in 1936, and a Philadelphia delegation was prepared to offer a certified check for $125,000 to obtain this year's meeting. It also was learned that the delegation held another certified check of an undisclosed amount which was to be offered in event some other city topped the $125,000 bid.

Deficit Wiped Out.

Earlier the committee cheered the news that a $250,000 party deficit had been more than wiped out by over $400,000 in receipts from the recent Jackson Day dinners.

Oliver A. Quayle, Jr., acting treasurer, said that additional collections probably would send the total yield from the extra-fare dinners to more than $500,000.

His report prompted adoption of a resolution to make him treasurer instead of acting treasurer of the committee.

Farley lent weight to talk that the committee would take no action on a convention date at today's meeting, but would turn the job over to a subcommitee. This subcommittee could act after the Republican national convention had selected a date in a meeting here February 16.

"Why not wait and see what the Republicans have to offer?" Farley remarked.

He indicated that if the Republicans meet in late June of early July, the Democratic convention might be held immediately afterward.

"I confess that I have no great apprehension as to the result of the forthcoming election," said the man who steered Franklin D. Roosevelt to easy victories in 1932 and 1936.

"Until or unless the Republicans are able to formulate a better program to take the place of our program, I do not think there is any danger of the voters of the United States consenting to any interruption of the course that has brought us so far on the road to recovery."

Third Term Not Mentioned.

The third term question found no mention in Farley's address.

"The opposition is bitter and resourceful," Farley continued. "The eminent gentlemen who possess the greatest wealth in this country are hungry for a return to the old conditions by which they dominated the government for their own advantage and profit. They will have dollars where we have dimes.

"Against a united Democracy, our enemies are helpless. x x x"

Farley tossed this taunt at the Republicans:

"They dare not permit the comparison of things as they are compared with things as they were, when a disgusted country turned them out of office for simple incompetence—for a complete bankrutcy not only of policy but of ideas."

Meeting to select a convention city and possibly a date, the Democratic committee heard from Quayle that if Jackson Day dinner pledges are all paid and a sizable sum is collected from the city obtaining the convention, "then we will be able to carry along our activities up to convention time."

"We will be able to start the presidential campaign without a sizable deficit." he added.

San Francisco to Bid $235,000.

Mrs. Lucretia Grady, California committeewoman, reported that San Francisco would bid up to $235,000 for the convention. Philadelphia interests were ready to offer a certified check for $125,000, and it was considered likely that this offer would be increased.

Chicago representatives would only reiterate that they would make "a reasonable offer."

Vice President Garner, an avowed presidential candidate, exchanged greetings with numerous committeemen. There was a sprinkling of applause when Garner answered the roll call, and the Texan, seated on the rostrum arose and bowed slightly.

Farley appointed a resolutions committee composed of David E. Fitzgerald of Connecticut, Lynn Broderick of Kansas and Mrs. William H. Good of New York.

Resolutions offered for later consideration included one from Ohio to give women "an equal voice" on the next convention's resolutions committee.

Another resolution would apportion delegates to the convention on the same basis as in 1936, with the total kept at 1,100.

No Advance Consultation.

When chairman Farley called on Vice President Garner for a speech, the Texan merely got up and smiled.

"I didn't consult with him in advance and he didn't consult with me," Farley said, amid laughter.

Indications were that selection of the convention date would be left to a subcommittee after the republicans chose theirs at a meeting here Feb. 16. Speculation on the democratic date ranged from mid-July to early September.

Opening of bids for the convention city was on the afternoon program, following a routine morning session to be addressed by National Chairman James A. Farley.

Hotel lobbies buzzed with political talk, with almost every committees member asking the same question—"will the president run again?"

Mr. Roosevelt was at his home in Hyde Park, N. Y. He will return tomorrow to greet the committee in a group after all the business is over.

Frank McHale, national committeeman from Indiana and campaign manager for Paul V. McNutt, sounded out Farley on whether the chief executive would run, and said he got nowhere. McNutt is a presidential candidate if Mr. Roosevelt does not run.

Mayor Kelly and Patrick A. Nash, Illinois national committeeman, who sponsored the petitions to enter the president's name in the Illinois primary April 9, reiterated that Mr. Roosevelt was their candidate and that they had no second choice.

Adding to the third term sentiment already evinced by committee members from Kansas and Washington state, Charles E. Broughton, member from Wisconsin, told reporters "we're for a third term in Wisconsin," while Scott Ferris, Oklahoma committeeman, declared "Oklahoma is 90 per cent in favor of a third term."

Rail Official Dies

FRED WESLEY SARGENT

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Fred W. Sargent, who less than a year ago retired as president of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, a post he had held for 14 years, is dead at the age of 63.

The railroad official and Chicago civic leader died yesterday in the suburban Evanston hospital where he had been confined for the past month. Ill health was given as the reason for Sargent's retirement last May 24.

happens to suit the purposes of the allies better than it does Herr Hitler, although England and France undoubtedly could figure out a scheme which they would like more.

The point is that Hitler has been placing great dependence on the rich resources of the Balkans to help him esecape the allied blockade which already has shut off all his sea-borne supplies. Politico-economic domination of this area is necessary to ensure control of supplies—a domination which Hitler had only a few months ago but which has been slipping from his grasp until we see the present independent attitude of the Balkan entente.

There is another aspect of moment. Both the allies and the Germans have been striving for control of the Balkans because of the vast strategic importance of this ancient battle ground of southeastern Europe which may easily become the scene of major fighting. Here, too, the Anglo-French pair seem to have played in luck.

It was emphasized in entente conference circles that Turkey, guardian of the Dardanelles straits—strategically one of the most important spots in the whole world—is the promised ally of England and France if fighting develops in that section. It further was emphasized that Greece, friend of England, was drawing still closer to Turkey.

There is yet another factor which would seem at this moment to be in favor of the allies. It is understood that the entente conference looked graciously on Signor Mussolini's intervention in the affairs of the Balkans with the idea of creating a neutral defensive unit and preventing any invasion by either Russia or Germany.

In other words, it would seem that Il Duce is getting ahead with his plan. There are those who think he is friendly at heart towards the Anglo-French allies, and there are those who think he may not be. Whatever may be his feeling, however, it is all to the good from the allied standpoint to have him acting as sentry at the entrance to the Balkan peninsula.

Thus, on the whole, it would seek that the allies did fairly well for themselves out of the entente conference.

Stag Dinner In Background.

In the background of the proceedings was a stag dinner which, as the forum for discussion of the Dies committee, was taking rank as a "cause celebre."

Hook said today he thought the date of the dinner was Jan. 16.

"You discussed ways and means of stopping this resolution (for continuance of the Dies committee)?" Rep. Cox (D-Ga) asked.

"Yes," Hook replied.

"Did you make this speech for the purpose of stopping this committee?" Cox asked, referring to Hook's remarks at the time he inserted the letters in the record.

"I certainly did," Hook answered.

"Do you think a member should use forged documents—?" Rep. Dempsey (D-NM) started to ask. Hook interrupted to retort, "Well, it has not been proved yet that those documents are forged."

"Will you tell this committee that those documents are genuine?" Cox asked.

Hook said that question was for handwriting experts to determine.

The filters will be used to sift out all the sun's infra-red radiation, which is sought for these observations, Dr. Struve explained, because the distribution of radiation over the sun's disc in this important part of the infrared is not known.

Governors here in addition to Phillips were Ratner of Kansas, Miles of New Mexico, Bailey of Arkansas, Smith of Wyoming and Carr of Colorado.

Proponents of the measure (HR372) testified at previous hearings here.

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel today informed the Texas congressional delegation in Washington he was "opposed to the principle of legislation" contained in the Cole bill which would transfer regulation of the oil industry from the state to the federal government.

It was the first time the governor had commented on the regulatory proposal. The three-man railroad commission, which supervises the petroleum industry in Texas, is opposed to the measure. The commissioners plan to appear against it at hearings in Washington this week.

"I believe the interest of all our citizens will be better served if w seek to improve and extend the co-opration between the various states rather than to completely destroy all state control and turn he task over to the federal government." the governor's statement said.

HOUSE PASSED FARM BILL WITH SLASHES IN APPROPRIATIONS

HEAVY CUT IN AGRICULTURAL MEASURE AS PROPOSED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—That nightmare of many congressmen, the fear of having to vote in this election year for new taxes or an increase in the national debt limit, helped economy advocates win house approval last night for a drastic reduction in federal farm outlays.

Without a record vote, the chamber passed an agriculture supply bill which would provide $66,928,435 less than President Roosevelt proposed for activities in behalf of the farmer during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The house held the measure to a total of $722,001,084, which is $579,339,231 under the total available for the current fiscal year. It retained many of the reductions made by its appropriations committee, despite the fact that the president had called the committee cuts perfectly terrible and Rep. Jones (D-Texas) had pleaded with tears in his eyes for restoration of a $25,000,000 loan fund to help tenants become farm owners.

Now the bill goes to the senate, where farm state members will try to restore it to the size asked by Mr. Roosevelt and undertake also to add at least $200,000,000 for "parity" payments. These would be designed to give farmers the same purchasing power, in terms of non-farm goods, that they had in 1909-14.

Last year congress appropriated $1,301,340,315 for farm expenditures.

In his budget message this year, telling congress how it could keep within the $45,000,000,000 debt limit with only $169,000,000 of new taxes, Mr. Roosevelt asked a farm appropriation of $788,929,519 and congressional permission for the rural electrification administration to borrow $40,000,000 from the reconstruction finance corporation.

The $722,001,084 house mill includes the $40,000,000 as an outright appropriation, however. It was put in in that form after Rep. Taber (R-NY) raised a legal point against the procedure suggested by the chief executive.

Additions included:

$47,500,000 for sugar benefit payments, which were restored after it was contended that sugar processing taxes already had poured more than that sum into the treasury and that to deprive the farmers of the benefit of the taxes would be unjust.

$40,000,000 for REA.

$126,828 for dry land farming experiment stations.

Tried Restore Cuts

In the closing hours of the house debate, the farm bloc tried in vain to restore to the bill $72,678,212 for the disposal of surplus farm commodities and $25,000,000 for loans to convert farm tenants into land owners. The surplus disposal fund had been proposed to supplement an automatic appropriation of approximately $100,000,000 for the same purpose.

The major item left in the bill, which as in previous years met no opposition, was $500,000,000 for payments to farmers co-operating in crop control programs.

The senate, where the contest over the measure now shifts, adjourned yesterday until Tuesday.

Senator Pepper (D.-Fla.) said today that he wanted the farm appropriation restored "to at least the figures of last year."

"If possible I would like to increase the bill over last year's figures," said Pepper. "There is more justification for an increase than for a decrease. It would not be an expense but a wise investment. Industrial sections would deprive as much benefit as the farmers."

Debate Ruled Out.

Representative Cole (D.-Md.), who presided over the house during a portion of the time it considered the bill, ruled out debate on an amendment which would have provided the additional surplus commodities fund, holding that the proposal was not authorized by law and therefore could not even be brought up on the floor.

The farm tenant amendment was voted down by a teller vote of 149 to 135 after Representatives Jones, chairman of the agriculture committee, had pleaded with the house not to go back on "the plain homespun folks" struggling to rise from the status of tenants. He wept as he finished his address, and democrats rose from their seats and applauded him.

Speaker Bankhead made one of his rare speeches on the floor in behalf of the item, bitterly criticizing the committee for making the deduction.

Representative Woodrum (D.-Va.) replied to Jones' plea with the remark that there was a "homespun philosophy that men are supposed to support the government rather than having the government support the men."

COMMISSIONERS IN SESSION SATURDAY SUPPLEMENT BUDGET

ACTION TAKEN TO CARE FOR SALARIES FIVE DEPARTMENT HEADS

The 1940 budget of Navarro county was supplemented by the commissioners court at a recessed meeting Saturday morning to care for the salary fund. All members were present.

The motion authorized the county judge "to prepare a supplement to the budget to care for the salary fund" was passed with all voting aye except Commissioner C. O. Slaughter, who did not vote. The action was taken on legal counsel's advice to care for the salaries of the five department heads whose salaries were reduced in the budget passed last summer it was stated. County Auditor E. Y. Cunningham had maintained he would issue checks for the lowered amount only unless the budget was supplemented or amended, while the department heads had contended they were entitled to the larger amount as set out by law. Those salaries of $4,750 were reduced in the budget to $3,600 per year. The supplement passed Saturday raises the salary fund to the higher figures. The criminal district attorney's salary is $5,500.

The application of Clarence Powell, constable of Precinct 1 for the appointment of Oscie Renfrow as deputy at a salary of $100 per month was granted.

The contract with Marvin McClung, superintendent of the county home, and his bond of $2,000 were approved.

The appointment of election judges and associate judges was studied by the commissioners and the appointments will be made within the next few days.

Improvements at the county home, purchase of a truck for Precinct 2, calling for $7,000 bonds of Road District No. 12 and other matters were attended to at the regular meeting of the Navarro county commissioners' court Thursday. All members were present except Commissioner T. P. Hayes of Corsicana, who was ill with influenza.

Commissioner Fitzgerald was allowed to trade a 1937 V-8 pick-up for a 1938 GMC 1-2 ton truck and pay $200 difference.

T. A. Farmer, assesor and collector, was advised some field deputies were not assessing all personal properties.

Lyda Reed, county clerk, asked for $76.50 extra for help during January when Gwendolyn Reeder was used in her office to aid in getting the recording up to date. A request made early in January for an extra deputy was denied. The request Thursday was granted.

The bid of Hall & O'Neal for re-roofing the dining hall and superintendent's residence, nefooring of the dining room an installation of a bathroom in the superintendent's residence for $773 was accepted. Work is to start this week.

Claims were allowed as read.

Negroes Pleaded Guilty Charge Of Liquor Violation

Viola Neely, negress, entered a plea of guilty to a V. O. P. L. charge Saturday morning and was sentenced to five days in jail and costs by County Judge Paul H. Miller. She was arrested by State L-Man C. H. DeWolfe.

DeWolfe reported he had arrested a negro in connection with the seizure of a gallon of whiskey early Saturday morning and would turn him over to federal authorities at Dallas.

REV. DR. MARK A. MATTHEWS

NOTED PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR-CRUSADER IS DEAD IN SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. Mark Allison Matthews, 72, noted Presbyterian pastor and vice crusader, died of pneumonia in the Stattle General Hospital today. He was pastor of the largest Presbyterian congregation in the nation.

Dr. Matthews had suffered from cold about a week before Jan. 30 when he was taken to the hospital. His illness became complicated by a stroke, and for the past few days he had been unconscious and in an oxygen tent.

Elected moderator of the general assembly in 1912, the highest honor that can be bestowed in the Presbyterian church, Dr. Matthews subsequently was a member of the general council, the church's governing body.

Besides his widow, the former Miss Grace Owen Jones, he is survived by a son, Mark A., Jr., Los Angeles, and a daughter, Mrs. E. Norman Scott, Jr., Santa Monica, Calif.

Dr. Matthews was born in Calhoun, Ga., and came to Seattle in 1902 as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. In the 38 years since his first sermon here his church has grown from a membership of 400 to 8,500.

Shortly after his arrival here, a gambling establishment was pointed out to him.

"Either that must go or Illl not stay," he said.

Thirty eight years of fireworks ensued. Dr. Matthews was a constant crusader, always the foe of organized gambling and many city administrations were assailed by him.

Processing Tax to Raise Farm Funds

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Administration farm leaders expressed the belief today that President Roosevelt could be induced to support processing taxes to raise farm aid funds if the major agricultural organizations would unite behind such a program.

This expression was linked with efforts of Secretary Wallace to win the endorsement of the American Farm Bureau Federation for the so-called "income certificate" plan of processing taxes advocated by the Farmers' Union.

Some leaders said that house action last week in cutting agriculture department appropriations $66,928,435 below what President Roosevelt had asked might go a long way toward bringing the farm organizations together.

Secretary Wallace has said that the certificate version of processing taxes would do away with the annual fight in congress over farm subsidies.

Under this plan, processors would be required to pay farmers the market price plus an amount equal to the difference between that price and the parity price for such crops as cotton, wheat, rice and possibly tobacco. Since money to bring farm income closer to the 1910-14 level now is provided out of the federal treasury, appropriations could be reduced under the certificate plan.

President Roosevelt has asked administration fiscal authorities to study this device.

The foreign office spokesman, Yakichiro Suma, confirmed today that Eugene H. Dooman, charge d'affaires of the United States embassy, last Thursday delivered a note charging that aerial attacks on the railway endangered American shipments and "inconvenienced" Americans residing at Changking.

TRAFFIC FATALITIES IN NAVARRO COUNTY REDUCED 50 PERCENT

NAVARRO COUNTY SAFETY COUNCIL PLAN ACTIVITIES FOR YEAR

High commendation for the excellent record made in 1939 which showed an approximate reduction of 50 per cent in fatalities on highways and pleas to continue persistent co-operation efforts to further reduce the number of accidents were heard by those who attended the first 1940 meeting of the Navarro County Safety Council at the Corsicana YMCA Friday night. The council also voted to enter the national and state safety contests for 1940.

Delegations were present from Kerens and Frost in addition to representatives from a number of Corsicana organizations including three members of the Sam Houston Safety Patrol.

President J. N. Garitty introduced the various official visitors who included Capt. John W. Draper and Sgt. Polk Ivey of the district office of the State Highway Patrol, Col. Nat S. Perrine, managing director of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., and others.

Fatalities Reduced.

Capt. Draper praised the efforts of Navarro county citizens in reducing the number of fatalities on the highways in 1939, pointing out the reduction from the 1938 record accounted for almost half of the total savings for the entire state. He stated that his district goal last year was a reduction of 25 per cent in fatalities but it had not been reached because of numerous accidents in the final two months of the year.

He suggested a campaign to reduce the number of fatalities in Navarro county to ten, asserting that was a reasonable figure and urged against too gerat disappointment if that number was exceeded slightly. He alos called attention to the fact that driving while intoxicated was involved in only one 1939 fatality, according to records in 1939, while six cases were reported in 1938. He complimented the extensive publicity over the county in behalf of safety and also use of safety films before numerous groups.

Capt. Draper declared the highway patrol and other agencies were willing and anxious to assist in safety work wherever possible but insisted the leadership and initiative must come from an organized safety-minded group of citizens.

Praises Patrolmen.

President Garitty praised the educational efforts of Patrolmen M. R. Reed and Hammett Vance in Corsicana and Navrro county, insisting their work along this line was more effective than wholesale arrests. He also called attention to the fact 110 persons had taken the primary first aid course, and about 75 had taken the advanced work taught by Patrolman Vance.

Col. Perrine was presented and after complimenting the county on its excellent record, asserted the Texas Safety Association, Inc., was attempting to carry on the same task over the entire state that the safety council was conducting in this county. He outlined the objectives of the association and urged co-operation with the legislative program which seeks to provide adequate laws for traffic strongly supported by public opinion.

Certainty of punishment rather than severity of sentences for law violations was presented as the goal of the campaign for greater safety. The speaker pointed out that Texas ranked sixth in the number of state patrolmen with 234, although the state had almost twice as many roads as other states.

The speaker defined safety as a state of mind which recognized the constant imminence of dangers and voluntarily accepted such restraints as would remove them as far as possible from the peril.

At the close of the meeting, the council listened to a radio broadcast based on an actual case of the effects of reckless driving.

FREE LUNCHES FOR UNDERNOURISHED IN SCHOOLS DISCUSSED

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF COUNTY P.T.A. HELD MEETING KINSLOE HOUSE

Problems relative to the installation of a free-lunch project in connection with the WPA program for under-privileged children in Navarro County schools were discussed at a special meeting of the executive committee of the Navarro County Parent-Teachers Council Saturday morning at the Kinsloe House. Mrs. C. C. Collins of Navarro, vice president of the council, presided in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Edgar Davis of Dawson.

J. C. Watson, Navarro county school superintendent, outlined various responsibilities necessary to be assumed by different organizations taking part in the project. He discussed the initial responsibilities of the sponsor, which in this case, he said, will be the county, stating that these responsibilities are a well ventilated room for food preparation, stove, large table, storage space for food, dishes and cooking utensils; dishes, equipment for preparation and service of meal, water supply and drainage connections, and equipment for dishwashing and cleaning.

Continuing Watson stated that the daily responsibilities of the sponsor include the furnishing of food for a balanced diet, supplies for cleaning and dishwashing, and assistance with serving the noon meal.

In connection with this, Watson pointed out, the WPA furnishes a worker for every thirty children served, a trained home economist and surplus commodities.

Eligibility of students for the free lunches will be determined by the teacher who selects underprivileged children and pupils suffering from malnutrition, the Superintendent stated.

Donations and the selling of tickets at 15 cents each to be used by non-eligibles were two methods put forward by the superintendent to raise money to furnish the food.

Several County school principals planned to visit a county where one of the projects are now in progress to inspect the work and familiarize themselves with the manner in which it is conducted. The date of the trip was set for February 7.

Following Superintendent Watson's talk, Mrs. J. N. Wheelock, chairman of the free food fund committee of the Corsicana public schools, disclosed how the local free lunch system is conducted.

TIME MOVES ON
—even though your Will stands still

Changes are taking place all around you. World conditions are undergoing violent readjustments. Investment values, real estate prices, probably your own net worth, are changing daily. Maybe there are also changes of a personal nature affecting your family—births, deaths, marriages.

The remorseless march of time renders many Wills valueless. Is it affecting yours? Read it in the light of today. If changes are in order, see your lawyer.

One change that we suggest is the naming of our institution as your executor and trustee. Let us tell you about our services.
